

NORTH TEXAS KIDS MAGAZINE: JERRE VAN DEN BENT PUTS CHILDREN AND FAMILIES FIRST

OCTOBER 2008, DALLAS, TEXAS — Jerre van den Bent, President and Founder of THERAPY 2000, is featured in the October Issue of North Texas Kids, a monthly guide for parents and children in North Texas to resources available in the area.

Helping children “keeps us young,” Jerre is quoted in the article. “There is nothing more fun for me than playing. We come to work every day and we play.”

The subject of the “Get to know...” feature of the magazine, Jerre shares a quick history of how he immigrated from his native Holland to work a one-year job that turned into 15 years of work and play helping children with developmental disabilities.

Minette Riordan, Ph.D., Publisher and Editor of North Texas Kids and author of the article, commends THERAPY 2000 as a company for its passion for “helping others and doing it very well.”

In the piece, Jerre offers praise for parents of children with disabilities and acknowledges the need to express gratitude for the work they do in raising their children.

In addition to Jerre’s biography as a therapist and a businessman, the article highlights some of THERAPY 2000’s services and event sponsorship, including Family Day and the annual Walk for Respect.

More than 50,000 copies of North Texas Kids are distributed to close to 1,800 major traffic locations throughout North Texas. The current issue is available online at www.northtexaskids.com.
